	many different solutions are currently being considered.
	Q: How will the Active Travel lane into Forthside from Riverside be monitored? MJ: Likely by ANPR cameras.
	Q: Are there any developments in the plan for the Green Space (the space over the bridge, opposite the student flats)? MJ: The work that RCC has put into a potential plan for this area will be taken into account, as a clear cycle route and clear pedestrian route through this space is needed.
	Q: Is there an educative element to the work that is being done? MJ: This consultation is about infrastructure, but SUSTRANS is looking at behaviour-change and Stirling Council works with schools to teach safe and respectful cycling.
	Q; Is there any provision for maintaining the new cycle paths? MJ: The funding for this project is for creation, not maintenance. Ideally the cycle paths would be swept, but funding is not secure yet, but there is potential for funding from Transport for Scotland.
	Q: Is there any news about the School Streets project? For children using Active Travel on their way to school, the streets around the RPS are often the most dangerous. MJ: There seems to be hesitancy within Stirling Council to make the School Streets project go forward. With RPS being the hub for the Gaelic medium and for Autism provision, there will always be a need for some cars.
7. a.	Sub-Groups Planning: A new programme, called RAMPS, created to track specific planning applications on specific dates in order to follow their progress more transparently.
b.	Active Travel: SUSTRANS Walking and Cycling Index for Stirling has been published. It reports that 18 million trips by cycling, wheeling or on foot were made in Stirling in 2023, with an economic benefit of £27.2 million. Visualised data broken down by various demographics can be found at www.sustrans.org.uk/walking- cycling-index
c.	Environment: Gritting : The gritting equipment is now being stored at the Riverbank Centre; thanks to Pamela and Iain for their accommodation and help. The grit bins are yet to be delivered and installed; Cllr Gibson said he would follow this up.
	Planters: RCC has been award a £600 seed grant, which will be used to fill the planters. Bob Dale proposed the money be spent on a watering backpack, compost, maintenance tools and bulbs. Anything left over will be spent on wildflower seeds.	- Fiona Copper Beech : A resident brought to attention a copper beech tree	Dyet to in the neighbouring Stirling Council owned property's garden which	contact is growing too large and too close to their own private property.	Stephen Bly to see what

d.	Old Harbour Woods (OHW) : The last event, clearing snowberries, went well. CSET have (not actually sure if the funding has been approved or if it has just been submitted?) £10,000 funding, supporting the work already started in the OHW. The plan includes promoting woodland health, opening up the ground layer and coppicing trees as well as installing interpretation boards and adding picnic benches. It is unclear how the Forthside Master Plan will impact the OHW, but work is being planned under the assumption that the more work is completed, the more likely the woodland will be protected.	can be done.
8.	Local Groups: Riverside Bowling Club: RBC has obtained a Bowlsmark Bronze Award from Bowls Scotland, recognising good standards in safe development and good governance. Their opening day will be Saturday 13 th April from 2pm, with a Try Bowls Event on 27 th April from noon.
	Treelink: Treelink are having a Spring Gathering on 27 th April (09:45-12.15) at Stirling Guild Hall.
	Riverside Naturally: RN have recently given out 21 apple trees to Riverside residents to be planted this Spring. There will be a Blossom Afternoon Tear at the Orchard on 28 th April, with more information on the RCC noticeboards.
9.	OAB
	Litter Pick : The last pick yielded 9 bags of rubbish and various household goods. The next meeting will be on 6 th April, with information notices displayed around Riverside.
	Forthside: It was proposed to add the Forthside Development as a regular point of discussion in RCC meetings going forward. The masterplan for the work at Forthside can be found here:
